6. [] PJC) Mr. James Gartland, Administrative Assistant, Senator Dodd (D., Conn.), called this morning to advise that the Senator's office was in receipt of a letter from [] who would like to offer his services to the Agency in any way they might be utilized. Mr. Gartland said this was not an application for employment. He added that [] had enclosed a sealed letter to the CIA and asked to whom he should forward this letter. I advised him to send it to [] He requested that the Senator's office be notified of any action taken on the Captain's request and I assured him we would do this.

[]

8. [] GLC) Talked briefly with Mrs. Pickett, in the office of Representative William T. Cahill, to determine the Congressman's interest in the case of [], a former Agency employee. Mrs. Pickett said Cahill had asked her to look into the case because [] had indicated to him that CIA had blackballed him as a security risk. I told Mrs. Pickett I had only general recollections concerning [] stemming from our contacts with the Vice President's office in March of this year. Since Mrs. Pickett thought Mr. Cahill would want specifics, I advised I would go over the case in detail and be in touch with her later.

9. [] In a happenstance meeting with Boyd Crawford, House Foreign Affairs Committee, I took up with him the possible appearance of [] before Fawcett's Subcommittee on Inter-American Affairs. I advised Crawford that while there was no problem in [] appearing before the Subcommittee, []

[] He said that invitations had gone out to a number of individuals like [] and that he would check her name on the list. He felt there would be no difficulty in handling this. (Similar arrangements were made when [] of RFE appeared before the Subcommittee sometime ago.)
